Heart of Darkness – Novel Test

Select the letter of the answer that best completes each numbered item.

1. When Marlow was a child, he was fascinated by
   a. maps  c. ships  e. the Romans
   b. the sea  d. the ivory trade

2. Marlow thinks that women are
   a. honest  c. trite  e. unrealistic
   b. deceitful  d. demanding

3. Marlow compares the chief accountant to
   a. a greedy, violent devil  c. a phantom  e. the manager
   b. a hairdresser’s dummy  d. Mr. Kurtz

4. What is the “exasperating habit” of Marlow’s white companion on his overland trip to the central station?
   a. quarreling with the natives  c. sneaking off  e. complaining
   b. stealing provisions  d. fainting

5. When does Marlow’s steamer sink?
   a. when it nears Kurtz’s station  c. when natives fire at it
   b. when the manager orders that it be sunk  d. on the return trip from Central Station

6. What does the aristocratic agent want Marlow to do?
   a. replace the manager  d. buy a picture
   b. set off to see Kurtz immediately  e. return to Europe
   c. influence Kurtz on his behalf

7. Why has the manager’s uncle come to Africa?
   a. to visit his nephew  c. to seek treasure  e. for his health
   b. to help the natives  d. to replace Kurtz

8. The manager resents wandering traders such as the Russian for their
   a. competition for ivory  c. carefree life  e. rudeness
   b. effect on the natives  d. influence with the company

9. To what does Marlow look forward on his trip upriver?
   a. finding ivory  c. rewarding his crew  e. returning to Europe
   b. getting rid of the manager  d. talking to Kurtz

10. How is Marlow’s helmsman killed?
    a. by a cannibal  c. in an accident  e. by Marlow
    b. by an agent’s rifle  d. by a spear

11. Who has nursed Kurtz through two illnesses?
    a. the native woman  c. a pilgrim  e. the Russian
    b. Kurtz’s Intended  d. the native tribe
12. When Marlow first see Kurtz, Kurtz is
   a. dead c. in his house e. lying in the jungle
   b. on a stretcher d. speechless

13. What does the Russian entrust to Marlow?
   a. his ivory c. his life e. Kurtz’s reputation
   b. his book on seamanship d. Kurtz’s life

14. Why does Marlow spend little time with Kurtz on the return trip?
   a. He is busy with the ship. d. Kurtz refuses to speak to him.
   b. He is disgusted with Kurtz. e. Kurtz is dead when the trip begins.
   c. The manager will not allow it.

15. What does Marlow do with Kurtz’s letters?
   a. He burns them. d. He gives them to a Belgian official.
   b. He keeps them. e. He gives them to the manager.
   c. He gives them to Kurtz’s Intended.

16. Of what do the natives who paddle out to Marlow’s ship from the African shoreline remind Marlow?
   a. despair c. reality e. darkness
   b. home d. childhood

17. What is suggested by the manager’s saying that a three-month delay before leaving for Kurtz’s station should “do the affair”?
   a. He regrets the delay.
   b. Kurtz should be near death by then.
   c. Marlow will know the river at that time.
   d. It will take that long to get supplies.
   e. The manager’s tour of duty will be over by then.

18. It can be inferred that Marlow has trouble getting rivets to repair the ship because
   a. the manager has delayed them
   b. the carriers are too busy transporting ivory
   c. there is a shortage of rivets
   d. he does not try hard enough
   e. he has an enemy at the Company’s headquarters

19. When Marlow says that Kurtz “had conquered one soul in the world that was neither rudimentary nor tainted with self-seeking,” he refers to
   a. himself c. the Russian e. the manager
   b. the native woman d. Kurtz’s Intended

20. When Marlow says of Kurtz that “the powers of darkness had claimed him for their own,” he means that Kurtz
   a. belongs to the “dark continent,” Africa
   b. has sold out to a rival company
   c. has died d. has become blind e. has become evil 21. When Marlow says that the Russian “crawled as much as the veriest savage of them all,” he means that the Russian
   a. despised Kurtz       d. was a simple man
   b. walked like a native  e. was covered with crawling insects
   c. idolized Kurtz

22. Marlow’s first impression of the native woman is that she is
   a. ugly                   c. uncivilized    e. deserving of respect
   b. a good person          d. dressed in showy splendor

23. According to Marlow, Kurtz’s “devoted friend” is
   a. himself                c. a native       d. the manager
   b. the Russian             e. a company official

24. What do the cannibals represent to Marlow?
   a. restraint              c. victory      e. innocence
   b. savagery               d. defeat

25. According to Marlow, in what way is Africa a part of Kurtz’s downfall?
   a. Its natives have corrupted him.
   b. It is too hot.
   c. Civilization’s safeguards have been removed there.
   d. He dislikes the wilderness.
   e. He is misunderstood there.

26. Ultimately, what does Marlow admire about Kurtz?
   a. his ability to inspire love       c. his eloquence
   b. his endurance                    d. his intelligence
   e. his ability to judge himself

27. In what respect does Marlow regard Kurtz as better than the manager?
   a. He is kinder.                c. He is saner.        e. He is more honest.
   b. He is smarter.               d. He is a better agent.

28. Marlow’s personal eagerness to speak to Kurtz suggests that he is looking for
   a. answers about himself       c. revenge on the manager
   b. tips for survival           d. influence with the company
   e. insight into Kurtz’s methods

29. Why does Marlow not tell the truth to Kurtz’s Intended?
   a. He does not know it.
   b. He promised Kurtz he would not
   c. He does not consider her worthy.
   d. He wants to protect the native woman.
   e. He wants to preserve her illusions.

30. Heart of Darkness employs which point of view?
   a. first-person            d. third-person omniscient
   b. third-person limited   e. a combination of first-person and third-person
   c. second-person
31. Revealing Kurtz’s personality through what other people say about him is an example of
   a. direct characterization       d. irony
   b. indirect characterization    e. atmosphere
   c. third-person point of view

32. The journey to Kurtz’s station forms part of what stage of the plot?
   a. climax                        c. rising action
   b. resolution                     d. falling action

33. The descriptions of dark and somber furnishings in the Intended’s house help to establish an atmosphere of a. great wealth                   c. wickedness
   b. mourning                        e. homesickness
   d. lofty ideals

34. Marlow’s literal journey to Africa has a thematic parallel as a search for
   a. adventure                       c. the past
   b. self-knowledge                  e. ancestors
   d. wealth

35. Structuring the novel according to Marlow’s recollections of events allows Conrad to give special stress to the theme of
   a. the potency of memory           d. excesses of human nature
   b. good vs. evil                   e. the corrupting effects of power
   c. the power of nature

36. Marlow’s anxiety about whether or not to tell the truth to Kurtz’s Intended is an example of
   a. exposition                      c. internal conflict
   b. indirect characterization       d. resolution

37. A central theme in Heart of Darkness addresses
   a. the dangers of travel           d. the healing effects of nature
   b. the dark side of human nature   e. the pitfalls of bureaucracy
   c. poverty in Europe

True or False (+ for True; O for False)

38. Marlow relates his story aboard a yawl in the Thames River.
39. Marlow has no sympathy for Kurtz.
40. The employers are pleased with Kurtz’s report.

Choose and respond to one of the following. Record your answer on a separate sheet of paper.

A. Write two paragraphs comparing and contrasting two of the following characters or groups of characters: Marlow, the manager, Kurtz, the Russian, and the cannibals. Consider the characters’ actions, motivations, and goals in your analysis.

B. Write a essay of two or three paragraphs in which you explain the significance of the novel’s title. You might consider ways in which the title relates to Kurtz or to Marlow.

C. Write a three-paragraph essay about a scene from Heart of Darkness that you consider significant. Identify the passage, explain its importance to the novel, and analyze why it is effective.

D. In two or three paragraphs discuss the African setting and the general atmosphere of Heart of Darkness. Use concrete examples to show how Conrad conveys the atmosphere through his descriptions and his use of vivid, expressive language.
Select the letter of the answer that best completes each numbered item.

1. When Marlow was a child, he was fascinated by
   a. maps           c. ships           e. the Romans
   b. the sea        d. the ivory trade

2. Marlow thinks that women are
   a. honest         c. trite           e. unrealistic
   b. deceitful      d. demanding

3. Marlow compares the chief accountant to
   a. a greedy, violent devil  c. a phantom  e. the manager
   b. a hairdresser’s dummy  d. Mr. Kurtz

4. What is the “exasperating habit” of Marlow’s white companion on his overland trip to the central station?
   a. quarreling with the natives  c. sneaking off  e. complaining
   b. stealing provisions        d. fainting

5. When does Marlow’s steamer sink?
   a. when it nears Kurtz’s station  c. when natives fire at it
   b. when the manager orders that it be sunk  d. on the return trip from Central Station

6. What does the aristocratic agent want Marlow to do?
   a. replace the manager        d. buy a picture
   b. set off to see Kurtz immediately  e. return to Europe
   c. influence Kurtz on his behalf

7. Why has the manager’s uncle come to Africa?
   a. to visit his nephew         c. to seek treasure  e. for his health
   b. to help the natives         d. to replace Kurtz

8. The manager resents wandering traders such as the Russian for their
   a. competition for ivory      c. carefree life  e. rudeness
   b. effect on the natives      d. influence with the company

9. To what does Marlow look forward on his trip upriver?
   a. finding ivory              c. rewarding his crew  e. returning to Europe
   b. getting rid of the manager d. talking to Kurtz

10. How is Marlow’s helmsman killed?
    a. by a cannibal              c. in an accident  e. by Marlow
    b. by an agent’s rifle        d. by a spear

11. Who has nursed Kurtz through two illnesses?
    a. the native woman          c. a pilgrim  e. the Russian
    b. Kurtz’s Intended          d. the native tribe
12. When Marlow first see Kurtz, Kurtz is
   a. dead               c. in his house               e. lying in the jungle
   b. on a stretcher     d. speechless

13. What does the Russian entrust to Marlow?
   a. his ivory          c. his life               e. Kurtz’s reputation
   b. his book on seamanship          d. Kurtz’s life

14. Why does Marlow spend little time with Kurtz on the return trip?
   a. He is busy with the ship.       d. Kurtz refuses to speak to him.
   b. He is disgusted with Kurtz.     e. Kurtz is dead when the trip begins.
   c. The manager will not allow it.

15. What does Marlow do with Kurtz’s letters?
   a. He burns them.                  d. He gives them to a Belgian official.
   b. He keeps them.                   e. He gives them to the manager.
   c. He gives them to Kurtz’s Intended.

16. Of what do the natives who paddle out to Marlow’s ship from the African shoreline remind Marlow?
   a. despair                  c. reality             e. darkness
   b. home                     d. childhood

17. What is suggested by the manager’s saying that a three-month delay before leaving for Kurtz’s station should “do the affair”?
   a. He regrets the delay.
   b. Kurtz should be near death by then.
   c. Marlow will know the river at that time.
   d. It will take that long to get supplies.
   e. The manager’s tour of duty will be over by then.

18. It can be inferred that Marlow has trouble getting rivets to repair the ship because
   a. the manager has delayed them
   b. the carriers are too busy transporting ivory
   c. there is a shortage of rivets
   d. he does not try hard enough
   e. he has an enemy at the Company’s headquarters

19. When Marlow says that Kurtz “had conquered one soul in the world that was neither rudimentary nor tainted with self-seeking,” he refers to
   a. himself              c. the Russian              e. the manager
   b. the native woman     d. Kurtz’s Intended

20. When Marlow says of Kurtz that “the powers of darkness had claimed him for their own,” he means that Kurtz
   a. belongs to the “dark continent,” Africa
   b. has sold out to a rival company
   c. has died
   d. has become blind
   e. has become evil
21. When Marlow says that the Russian “crawled as much as the veriest savage of them all,” he means that the Russian
   a. despised Kurtz       d. was a simple man
   b. walked like a native  e. was covered with crawling insects
   c. idolized Kurtz

22. Marlow’s first impression of the native woman is that she is
   a. ugly                      c. uncivilized     e. deserving of respect
   b. a good person             d. dressed in showy splendor

23. According to Marlow, Kurtz’s “devoted friend” is
   a. himself                    c. a native       d. the manager
   b. the Russian                e. a company official

24. What do the cannibals represent to Marlow?
   a. restraint                  c. victory       e. innocence
   b. savagery                   d. defeat

25. According to Marlow, in what way is Africa a part of Kurtz’s downfall?
   a. Its natives have corrupted him.
   b. It is too hot.
   c. Civilization’s safeguards have been removed there.
   d. He dislikes the wilderness.
   e. He is misunderstood there.

26. Ultimately, what does Marlow admire about Kurtz?
   a. his ability to inspire love   c. his eloquence    e. his ability to judge himself
   b. his endurance                d. his intelligence

27. In what respect does Marlow regard Kurtz as better than the manager?
   a. He is kinder.              c. He is saner.      e. He is more honest.
   b. He is smarter.             d. He is a better agent.

28. Marlow’s personal eagerness to speak to Kurtz suggests that he is looking for
   a. answers about himself    c. revenge on the manager  e. insight into Kurtz’s methods
   b. tips for survival        d. influence with the company

29. Why does Marlow not tell the truth to Kurtz’s Intended?
   a. He does not know it.
   b. He promised Kurtz he would not
   c. He does not consider her worthy.
   d. He wants to protect the native woman.
   e. He wants to preserve her illusions.

30. Heart of Darkness employs which point of view?
   a. first-person           d. third-person omniscient
   b. third-person limited   e. a combination of first-person and third-person
   c. second-person
31. Revealing Kurtz’s personality through what other people say about him is an example of
   a. direct characterization  d. irony
   b. indirect characterization  e. atmosphere
   c. third-person point of view

32. The journey to Kurtz’s station forms part of what stage of the plot?
   a. climax  c. rising action  e. exposition
   b. resolution  d. falling action

33. The descriptions of dark and somber furnishings in the Intended’s house help to establish an atmosphere of
   a. great wealth  c. wickedness  e. homesickness
   b. mourning  d. lofty ideals

34. Marlow’s literal journey to Africa has a thematic parallel as a search for
   a. adventure  c. the past  e. ancestors
   b. self-knowledge  d. wealth

35. Structuring the novel according to Marlow’s recollections of events allows Conrad to give special stress to the theme of
   a. the potency of memory  d. excesses of human nature
   b. good vs. evil  e. the corrupting effects of power
   c. the power of nature

36. Marlow’s anxiety about whether or not to tell the truth to Kurtz’s Intended is an example of
   a. exposition  c. internal conflict  e. external conflict
   b. indirect characterization  d. resolution

37. A central theme in Heart of Darkness addresses
   a. the dangers of travel  d. the healing effects of nature
   b. the dark side of human nature  e. the pitfalls of bureaucracy
   c. poverty in Europe

True or False (+ for True; O for False)
38. Marlow relates his story aboard a yawl in the Thames River.  True
39. Marlow has no sympathy for Kurtz.  False 40. The employers are pleased with Kurtz’s report.  False

Choose and respond to one of the following. Record your answer on a separate sheet of paper.

A. Write two paragraphs comparing and contrasting two of the following characters or groups of characters: Marlow, the manager, Kurtz, the Russian, and the cannibals. Consider the characters’ actions, motivations, and goals in your analysis.

B. Write a essay of two or three paragraphs in which you explain the significance of the novel’s title.
   You might consider ways in which the title relates to Kurtz or to Marlow.

C. Write a three-paragraph essay about a scene from Heart of Darkness that you consider significant.
   Identify the passage, explain its importance to the novel, and analyze why it is effective.

D. In two or three paragraphs discuss the African setting and the general atmosphere of Heart of Darkness. Use concrete examples to show how Conrad conveys the atmosphere through his descriptions and his use of vivid, expressive language.